Other apitherapy products that Medikoel I.L.c. offers:

- API AEROSOL II- Inhalation of aerosol from the hive with forced draft
- Additional components (child and adult mask with shut-off valve, flexible tube, nozzle, spray with 70% alcohol, ...)
- Nebulizers
- Concentrates for mixing in honey (a concentrate of echinacea, concentrated beetroot juice, concentrated extract of pine buds).

Inhalation of aerosol from the hive

- Using the API-AEROSOL I Plus set will enable the user to easily inhale aerosol from the hive.
- Inhalation of aerosol generated by bees is used for the treatment and relief of symptoms in diseases, disorders and infections of the upper airways, a variety of colds, flu, viral infections...
- As a complementary or adjunctive therapy, apitherapy is also used in cardiovascular diseases, digestive diseases, oral cavity, urinary tract diseases, diseases of the blood and blood-forming organs, skin disorders and problems with weight.
- The API AEROSOL I Plus set contains a professional mask for apitherapy with one-way air valve, a professional tube with a smooth inner surface for easy cleaning, a hive adapter, filter and a mouthpiece.
- Professional tube with a smooth inner surface can be used for more therapies than a normal flexible tube.
- Special professional mask with a one-way valve, fits the face more closely, thereby allowing greater suction of the aerosol from the hive.
- Can be used when working with oxalic acid.
